Stories that need telling . . .

PREMIERE FUND: open for submissions

Seeking MIFF 2024 & 2025 premieres, MIFF Premiere Fund Round 66 is open for submissions - with applications closing 30 March 2023

Providing co-finance to support production of new Australian films that then premiere at Melbourne International Film Festival (MIFF), the Premiere Fund, operated by MIFF INDUSTRY with funding from Victoria's State Government, has since 2007 supported more than 90 "stories that need telling" (see show-reel here).

FUND-supported FILMS: acclaim, notice, awards

For 15-years, MIFF Premiere Fund's annual offering of diverse voices telling essential stories launched films that are amongst the most popular with MIFF audiences, and critically-acclaimed & widely-noticed with almost 200 awards from nearly 500 nominations and more than 700 festival selections globally to their credit.

Celebrating MIFF-70, a record 11 Premiere Fund (PF) titles debuted in 2022 enthraling MIFF audiences and resulting in:

- 50% of PF 2022 films winning 50% of places in MIFF-Audience-Voted-Top-10-Favourites
- 35% of PF films making-up 25% of MIFFplay 15 most-watched 2022 titles (excluding schools)
- 50% of PF's 2022 films comprising 25% of MIFF-70's 25-most-watched 'in-theatre' titles

Since then ...

2022's slate of Premiere Fund films won two of Australia's three richest film prizes, with the slate's prize tally thus far at 13 awards from more than 40 nominations. More than half the 11 titles have scored major international A-list festival (including Rotterdam & Berlinale) invitations contributing to an overall tally of 55+ festival selections.

More details below ...

OF AN AGE: out & about

World premiering in 2022 as MIFF-70's Opening Gala, Accelerator Lab (Acclab) alumnus director Goran Stolevski's MIFF Premiere Fund-supported OF AN AGE had its International Premiere at January's Palm Springs International Film Festival (a homecoming of sorts as Palm Springs is where trade publication Variety annually names its global 10 Directors to Watch which last year included Stolevski) before opening the recent Sydney World Pride's Mardi Gras Film Festival ahead of its USA release, and then Roadshow's 23 March local release (with new trailer).

Hailed a "modern queer classic" (Guardian) and named among the year's 10 best films by Saturday Paper, Cinema Australia, and ScreenHub, Causeway's acclaimed film also won Cinefest's $100k Film Prize - the fifth Premiere Fund-supported film to do so during Cinefest's thus far eight Competitions, after: Robert Connolly's $10m Australian box-office-grossing PAPER PLANES (2014); Nicole Ma's PUTUPARRI & THE RAINMAKERS (2015); H IS FOR HAPPINESS (2019) from Acclab alumnus John Sheedy (whose short TARNEIT won Cardiff's £30,000 Iris Prize); and Acclab alumnus Justin Kurzel's NITRAM (2014).

Stolevski, who, like fellow Acclab graduate Jub Clerc (SWEET AS) is a 20-year-gestating "overnight success" discusses here Acclab's help in his career.

SWEET AS: Berlin Bear the latest charm!!

MIFF Accelerator Lab alumna director Jub Clerc's MIFF Premiere Fund-supported SWEET AS won Crystal Bear for Best Film at its European premiere in Berlinale's Generations K-plus selection, having won MIFF Awards' inaugural BlackMagic $70,000 Innovation Prize from its world premiere in MIFF 2022 Headliners, before its international-premiere in Toronto International Film Festival's Discovery where it was Australia's first film to win Best Asian Feature Film from the Network for Promotion of Asian Cinema (NETPAC).

Australia's first feature helmed by a female Western Australian Indigenous filmmaker, SWEET AS has charmed numerous festivals, including on Clerc's Pilbara-Kimberley home ground at CinefestOz Broome. "I just can't wait for mob to see it – I wrote it with countrymen in mind and young Indigenous kids as well, teens and young adults," said Clerc, who drew on her teenage experience of growing-up in Port Hedland and Broome and being on a National Geographic photo safari herself before becoming involved in the arts through her uncle, Jimmy Chi, who wrote musical BRAN NUE DAE, that she spent her teenage years performing in the traveling stage production, which later became a hit Premiere Fund-supported film. "You can only imagine what our young Indigenous kids are going through, especially because the Kimberley has the highest rate of youth suicides in Australia. I always hope that there's something there that resonates with them, that might just help change their life trajectory."

Releasing a new trailer ahead of the local release campaign, Roadshow's Joel Pearlman recalls acquiring the film after: "watching it with an audience at MIFF" where "it earned a standing ovation. Clerc's directorial debut is an extraordinary coming-of-age story that audiences are going to adore. Australian teenage audiences deserve films that are specifically made for them."

Meantime, the Berlinale Series strand had the international premiere four-part Stan/Matchbox/Uni series BAD BEHAVIOUR from AccLab alumna director Corrie Chen, who won Best Episode Director for four-part Goalpost/SBS-TV series NEW GOLD MOUNTAIN at December's Australian Director Guild (ADG) Awards, where prizes went to fellow AccLab alumni Brietta Hague (short film BALTASAR) and Sian Davies with two nods - one for each online series SURVIVING SUMMER (ZDF) and SPREADSHEET (ITV).

Sundance & Sony: SHAYDA shines

Sony Pictures Classics acquired all rights to the Americas, Benelux, Eastern Europe and Middle East for MIFF Accelerator Lab alumna director Noora Niasari's acclaimed MIFF Premiere Fund-supported SHAYDA after its world premiere at January's Sundance Film Festival.

"I have held the deepest admiration for Sony Pictures Classics since childhood. For my debut feature to be distributed by them is a dream," said Niasari. "They will set the stage for a wonderful release so that audiences worldwide can experience the emotional depth and power of Shayda."

Declared "one of 10 films that stood out at Sundance 2023" (amongst 119 selected from 4044 submissions) by Screen International, SHAYDA won the Audience Award at Sundance's exclusive World Cinema Dramatic Competition (with just 12-films - another of them being fellow AccLab alumna Alice Englert's feature helming debut BAD BEHAVIOUR). Executive Producer Cate Blanchett told Deadline that "whilst set firmly in Australia in the 1990s" the film, inspired by Niasari's mother, in Niasari's "deft hands powerfully resonates domestic personal tribulations into an urgent cultural conversation" given the present situation for women in Iran, which Blanchett described in Variety as "hideous, horrible, horrific events that are now unfolding that make this film more timely and more urgent."

Praised by Guardian Australia as one of 2023's ten-most anticipated Australian films, SHAYDA, which stars Cannes best actress-winner Zar Amir-Ebrahimi (HOLY SPIDER), Osamah Sami (Ali's Wedding), Leah Purcell (Drover's Wife) and Rina Mousavi, is part of MIFF-2023's Premiere Fund slate of "Stories that need telling" that also includes THE ROOSTER, the directing debut of actor Mark Leonard Winter (from Premiere Fund-supported films BALIBO and MEASURE FOR MEASURE) starring Hugo Weaving & Iran-born Phoenix Raei that was hailed by Screen International as one the four Australian films to be on the look-out for in 2023

RECAP: Premiere Fund 2022 slate shines at MIFF-70 & beyond

Almost half 2022's Premiere Fund slate won half the places on MIFF-70's top-10 audience-favourite list derived from votes on the 370-strong program (including 257 features).

- Winning MIFF-70's Audience Choice Award, GREENHOUSE BY JOOST crowned most popular film;
- in third place was fellow GoodThing title VOLCANO MAN (MIFFregional staging extra screenings, for "remarkable" & "heart-breaking" film, while Shoreline took rights for international sales via 37°South Breakthru Screenings);
- eighth was AccLab alumna Jub Clerc's SWEET AS (won MIFF Awards' inaugural BlackMagic $70,000 Innovation Prize, with Roadshow taking-on local release after a deadly MIFF Headliners world premiere, whilst sales agent Sphere snared international rights at 37°South Breakthru Screenings);
- ninth was AccLab director alumnus Kasimir Burgess' Hugo Weaving-narrated feature documentary FRANKLIN (Melbourne world premiere with Bob Brown, MIFFregional's nine-town First Night Feature, MIFFschools program and MIFFplay's 7th most-watched);

and

- tenth, from AccLab alumnus Goran Stolevski (discussing here AccLab's career-help) was OF AN AGE (won CineFest $100k Prize, Roadshow taking local release after dazzling MIFF 70th Opening Night world premiere, whilst Bankside earlier sold foreign rights during post to Focus/Uni) which was also MIFF's most-watched (in-theatre) title, with other Premiere Fund titles to make MIFF's 25-most-watched in-cinema titles being SWEET AS (13th) and FRANKLIN (14th), plus:
 - Margot Robbie-narrated UNDERCOVER, a TV-hour version of which has debuted on ABCiView, coming-in at 18th on the in-cinema list and fourth most watch title overall on MIFFplay;
 - At 21st, AccLab alumna Alena Lodkina's PETROL (first Premiere Fund-supported film world premiering in MIFF Competition for new MIFF Awards' $140,000 Bright Horizons Prize).
- Other Premiere Fund-supported 2022 titles that debuted at MIFF-70 were:
 - SENSES OF CINEMA, which the recent 2023 Film Critics Circle of Australia (FCCA) Awards named Joint Best Feature Documentary (along-side AccLab alumnus Amiel Courtin-Wilson's MAN ON EARTH and ahead of fellow Premiere Fund-supported VOLCANO MAN);
 - BECAUSE WE HAVE EACH OTHER, that had its international premiere at January's Rotterdam Film Festival and was nominated for best feature documentary at AIDC (as was FRANKLIN), world premiered at MIFF 2022 and included the PF's first "sensory-friendly/comfort" screening [all PF titles are required to deliver with captions for deaf and audio descriptions for the blind];
 - MOJA VESNA, which world premiered at 2022's Berlinale Generations ahead of its international premiere at MIFF-70;
 - THE ENDANGERED GENERATION, narrated by Oscar-winner Laura Dern (Jurassic Park).

Factoid

- Premiere Fund films are routinely voted in top-10 favourites by MIFF audiences with others so honoured including, BRAN NUE DAE (voted top film overall by MIFF 2009 audiences, followed by top-grossing Australian release and selections for Toronto, London, Dubai, Sundance and Berlin Film Festivals), BALIBO (voted second favourite at MIFF 2009 where presence of Jose Ramos Horta generated saturation press coverage), AUTOLUMINESCENT: ROWLAND S HOWARD, BUOYANCY, (praised as "a powerful reminder of cinema's ability to provide a window to the world" by Guardian Australia having won 2019's Berlinale Panorama Ecumenical Jury Prize and Asia Pacific Screen Awards (APSA) Best Youth Feature Film, and Australia's 2020 Oscars entry), COMING BACK OUT BALL MOVIE, H IS FOR HAPPINESS (opened Berlinale 2020's Generation K- plus having won 2019's CineFest $100k Prize, with Jury Chair Rachel Ward saying: "If we have the power as jurors to change the world to be a better place, then voting for H is for Happiness to win CinefestOZ 2019 is our contribution"), IN BOB WE TRUST, EMO THE MUSICAL, MOTHER OF ROCK: LILLIAN ROXAN, NO TIME FOR QUIET, PUTUPARRI & THE RAINMAKERS (won 2015's CineFest $100k Prize, with Jury Chair David Wenham remarking: "A story and characters so compelling and emotionally engaging that it reinforced the power of cinema to entertain, touch us deeply and stay with us forever"), UNDERMINED: TALES FROM THE KIMBERLEY, SONG KEEPERS, WEDDING PARTY

PREMIERE FUND FILMS: charming critics & winning awards

MIFF Premiere Fund-supported films and filmmakers (many of them also MIFF Accelerator Lab (AcLab) alumni) are being lauded more than ever:

- Two AcLab alumni-directed Premiere Fund-supported titles made Guardian Australia's Ten Most Anticipated Australian Films of 2023: Noora Niasari's SHAYDA and Goran Stolevski's OF AN AGE;
- Three Premiere Fund-supported titles made Guardian Australia's Ten Best Australian Films of 2022: in 9th spot was AcLab alumnus Kasimir Burgess' FRANKLIN (which was also nominated for a Walkley Award), 7th was MOJA VESNA, and in 5th spot was MIFF 2021's LITTLE TORNADES (which won the prize for Best Direction of low-budget narrative feature at December's Australian Director Guild Awards for AcLab alumnus Aaron Wilson);
- Eight Premiere Fund-supported titles made FilmInk's Top 2022 Cinema Films, led by MOJA VESNA (which the magazine hailed as "one of the best Australian features in recent memory," with TIME OUT adding "this Melbourne-set melancholia is worth the watch"), and followed by FRANKLIN, UNDERCOVER, GREENHOUSE BY JOOST, ANONYMOUS CLUB, ABLAZE, CHEF ANTONIO'S RECIPES FOR REVOLUTION (which airs on SBS-tv on March 20th to coincide with World Down Syndrome Day), LITTLE TORNADES;
- NITRAM won a place in The Season's Most Overlooked Performances from London-based critic Guy Lodge (Guardian, Observer, Variety), who marvelled at the performance of Judy Davis as the "hardened but haunted mother, her scalpel-carved mouth tensely pursed around a cigarette as she stares down the impossible abyss of parental failure" in "Justin Kurzel's "harrowing, dread-filled" and further noted: "Davis has been away from the big screen since 2015; here she reminds us why she remains one of its most searing presences."
- MIFF Accelerator Lab alumnus director Adrian Francis' Premiere Fund-supported PAPER CITY won the Audience Award at its Japanese premiere in January's Tokyo Documentary Film Festival - the latest in the long-tail festival/awards life for PAPER CITY which world premiered at MIFF 2021, had its international premiere at 2022's Santa Barbara International Film Festival and is being re-versioned for Al Jazeera Witness.
- The prestigious Victorian Premier's Literary Award for Drama was bestowed (for script THE RETURN) upon AcLab alumnus John Harvey who earlier won (with co-director Rhian Skirving), for NITV's serialisation of MIFF 2021 Premiere Fund-supported feature documentary OFF COUNTRY (streaming at SBS-On-Demand), the Best Documentary TV Series Episode Direction prize at December's Australian Directors Guild Awards, where Best Documentary Feature Direction winner was fellow MIFF 2021 Premiere Fund-supported title ABLAZE (showing now on ABCiView).
- Also on ABCiView is AcLab alumnus Dylan River's six-part MYSTERY ROAD: ORIGIN which had its international premiere at September's Toronto International Film Festival Prime-Time section

MIFF INDUSTRY

Operating with Victorian Government funding since commencing in 2007, MIFF Industry reinforces Melbourne's standing as a creative city and supports the Antipodean screen sector through selective-entry programs to foster creative connections and collaborations, including: 37°South Market to facilitate sourcing, acquisition, development & production-financing of local screen content & talent; Accelerator Lab to nurture emerging directors; and MIFF Premiere Fund to support co-commissioning Australian "stories that need telling" into films which then premiere at MIFF. MIFF Industry also offers limited on-sale-to-the-public ticketed-sessions of specialist subjects for audience niches, media students, film culture buffs, select industry personnel, and film lovers in general which have included: Illustrated Film Culture Talks; AccLab's Behind the Scenes craft classes; Script+Story Seminars; and other Special Events

MIFF Industry events occur during the Melbourne International Film Festival (MIFF), which, having celebrated 70-years in 2022, is amongst the world's oldest film festivals - and one of the largest; each August MIFF runs public screenings & events (including feature films, shorts, talks, XR projects & TV-specials) across metro, regional & digital contexts, plus Schools, Critics Campus, Short Awards, and in 2022 introduced the Southern Hemisphere's richest film Competition with a top award of $140,000 (and an overall prize pool of around $250,000) - leading VARIETY to declare: "MIFF has to be one of the longest, liveliest and now most lucrative film festivals in the world."

MIFF Industry acknowledges traditional custodians of Country across Australia, and pays respect to Elders past and present, and to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, and celebrates the history and creativity of the world's oldest living culture
